

THEATERS

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

The Auditorium is showing today "Unknown," a three reel drama; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in a single reel Metro comedy, "The Girl Who Dared," a Kalem railroad picture featuring Helen Rose Gibson, and the Selig-Tribune of current events showing soldiers near Verdun who live for months like moles, with apparently little physical discomfort; with telephones and typewriters, communications between miles of trenches, form daily routine; Carranza's troops leave to intercept Villa before he escapes into Sierra Madre mountains; American troops make forced night marches to "bottle up" Villa; the United States torpedo boat Rowan is launched at Quincy, Mass., in the presence of United States naval officials; Paris, Texas, is swept by fire and four thousand persons are rendered homeless, and many other interesting scenes. Tomorrow's bill includes "No. 17, West Bound," a three reel sensational railroad picture featuring Kathryn Williams; "For Sweet Charity," one of those funny "Bani and Bud" comedies; "The Toll of the Jingles," a Selig wild animal picture, and "Behind the Footlights," a single reel film comedy.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Today's program at the Orpheum featuring Eva Fay in her original performances of mind reading and mysterious thought conveyance will conclude this original entertainer's engagement. Other specialties on the same bill will be given concluding performances including Tom Merry, who offers a laughable comedy entitled "The Cop"; Besse Browning in character songs and the three Loretas, versatile entertainers. The dancing Mars complete the bill with their original specialty.

Beginning Sunday, a new musical comedy tabloid entitled "Six Little Wives" will be offered for the first four days of the coming week. Those who have had the opportunity of witnessing this latest production of Boyle Woolfolk have commented very favorably on the performances. Will Howe, author of "The Time, the Place and the Girl" and other tabloid successes, is responsible for the musical numbers and much of the comedy that is exploited during the action of the piece. This tabloid is out of the ordinary, inasmuch as it requires six principals in order to enact the leading roles of the six wives. Raymond Paine, a well known musical star, is also a featured player and the balance of the cast are in keeping with the excellence of the production.

AT THE LASALLE.

The principal picture at the LaSalle today is entitled "For the Defense" which features Fanny Ward in the role of an attractive girl detective. There is a melodramatic situation in which a girl, recently arrived in this country, is called upon to take the witness stand against her only benefactor. Miss Ward's ability to handle character parts, stand her well in hand in this production and it is confidently stated that the entertainment is one of the highest class. The same program will show a Paramount travel picture featuring Burton Holmes, the well-known artist, with some of his most excellent views of California scenes.

On Sunday will be seen Warren Karrison in an adventurous drama, "The Pool of Flame." The action of the picture centers about a valuable diamond, known as the pool of flame, which has been stolen from an India idol. There are many strong dramatic effects and the last reel unfolds a climax which sets the heart beating rapidly. Karrison fights a duel early in the narrative and some of the scenes at Monte Carlo give realistic views of this noted gambling resort.

AT THE COLONIAL.

"The Bruiser," the startling Mutual masterpiece, de luxe edition, produced by the American Film Co. at the Colonial today, establishes an entirely new standard for "labor" plays. It pictures a fight of labor against capital and furnishes an interesting picture of the various types which make up American society.

There is a certain bigness and dignity of the spirit of work which has been caught by Director Charles Bartlett in this drama, and makes the spectators realize the worthiness of those big-hearted, brawny men who depend upon muscular strength for their existence. Ultra fashionable society, on the other hand, appears puny and weak besides the splendid vigor of real manhood.

The leading role of this masterpiece, de luxe edition, is played by William Russell, the popular American leading man, whose appearance is eagerly watched for by thousands upon thousands of screen fans the country over. As "Big Bill" Bravley, the champion of the cause of the water front, Russell throws himself with effective vigor into a role which demands intelligence, mastery acting and real physical force.

Charlotte Burton, the well remembered Vivian Marston of "The Diamond from the Sky," plays opposite the virile American actor. She is Fen Bernham, a daughter of the laboring class, whose loyalty of heart and sincerity of purpose make her a very much more acceptable member of society than Norma Kenwick (Lizette Thorne) who though a belle of the ultra fashionable set is underhanded and deceitful.

GIRL DIES AFTER SECOND DELICATE OPERATION

International News Service.
CHICAGO, April 13.—Five-year-old Eliza Johnson, who had the mentality of a child a few weeks old, is dead today following an operation by Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, of Beltinger baby fame, and the coroner's office will make an investigation of her death.

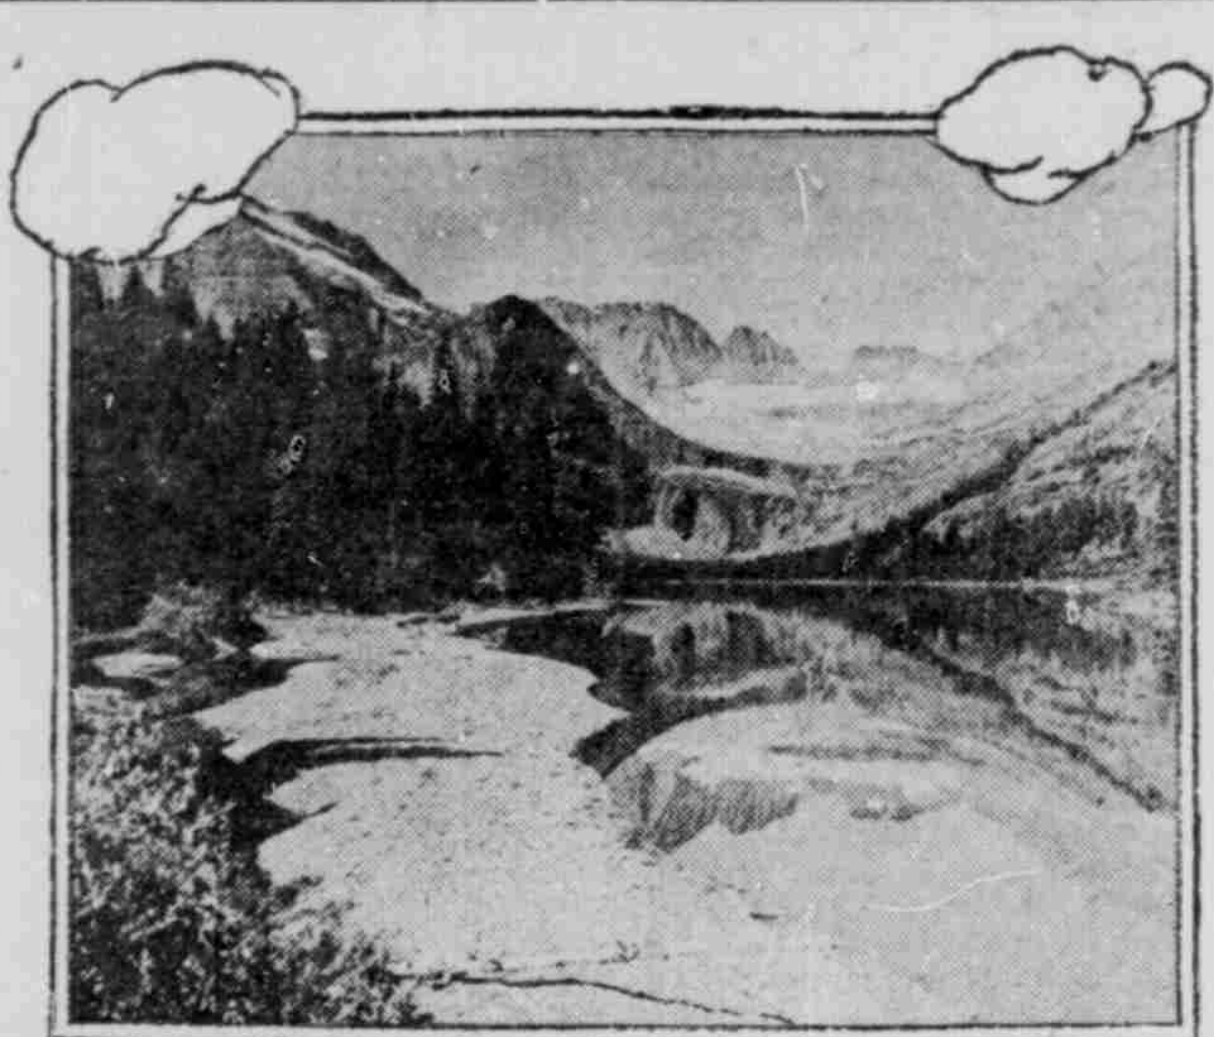

The parents of the child are said to have agreed that she would "be better off dead" than to live the life of an idiot. Dr. Haiselden told them that the chances were "one in a thousand" of an operation restoring

SCHOOL HEADS
BLAME MOTHERS

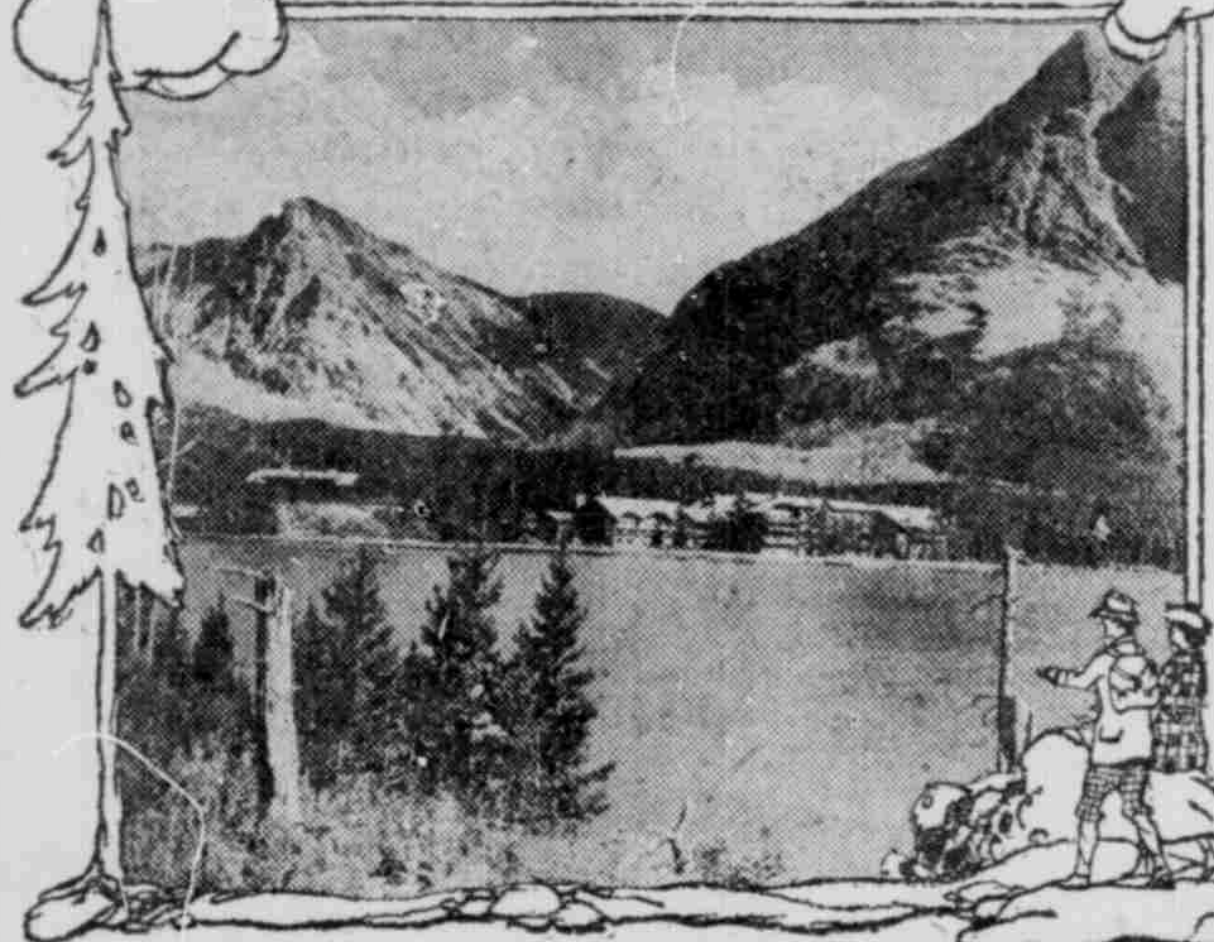

Say Parents Neglect Primary Health Rules.

That many school children are being allowed to become chronically constipated through parent's oversight, is a startling fact brought to light by recent investigation by school authorities. Hastily scratched meals so that there will be more time to play, the use of ready-to-eat cereals, and the general neglect of the call of nature are given as principal causes. It is the duty of mothers to see that children attend to the call of nature before going to school. However, a laxative is sometimes needed, and this should be the old reliable, healing, natural vegetable treatment for constipation—castor oil—the only remedy that doesn't form a habit.

In the new jellied form known as CASTOR-JELL it is easy to take. CASTOR-JELL is simply 94 per cent pure castor oil, whipped into jellied form and with a delicious orange flavor added.
